

SIXTY THOUSAND BODIES BURIED IN TOKIO CITY

Casualties at Yokohama
Now Are Estimated
At 110,000.

DISPATCH RECEIVED

Property Damage Enormous But Not Yet
Fully Estimated

Washington, Sept. 12.—Casualties in Yokohama are now estimated at 110,000, or one-quarter of the entire population, while in Tokio the authorities up to the night of Sept. 8 had incinerated the bodies of 60,000 fire and earthquake victims, according to an official dispatch to the Japanese embassy here.

Following the first shock on Sept. 1, there were 1,319 separate shocks recorded up to 6 o'clock on the morning of Sept. 6, the dispatch states, adding:

"The population of the whole affected area is 6,000,000. The property damage, which, of course, is immense, is not yet determined or estimated."

"An official investigation by the ministry for foreign affairs shows that in Yokohama, of 3,000 foreign residents 100 killed, including 50 British and 20 Americans. Of the survivors, only nine remained ashore, most of the others having gone to Kobe aboard the Empress Australia and the Andre Lebou, some others remaining on board the steamers Ambrose and Empress of Canada, including the staffs of foreign embassies, legations and consulates, which are directing the work for the relief of their nations. The government is co-operating in the matter of communications and transportation."

"The Tokyo prefectural government is guarding the property of the foreigners at Yokohama, collecting the dead and taking all possible measures of salvage."

"Up to midnight Sept. 8 the authorities in Tokio had burned the bodies of 60,000 dead. The number still uncounted, those drowned, buried under debris or burned in the general conflagration, is probably very great."

First Aid to Injured.

"Up to the 8th in Tokio first aid had been administered in the emergency hospital stations to upwards of 500,000 injured and sick."

"Casualties in the Chiba and Kanagawa regions are great, but the investigation is not yet completed."

"Railways and other communications are rapidly being restored. Supplies of general commodities are increasing and authorities state that there will be no shortage of rice for two months and a half in Yokohama and Tokio."

"Many of the industrial, commercial and publishing houses are planning to remove temporarily to the Kobe and Osaka districts, but there is no truth in reports that the capital is to be removed from Tokio, the dispatch states."

"At least 50 Americans are now reported to have perished in Tokio in spite of previous statements that no casualties among American residents of the Japanese capital had occurred. The information was officially given out by American Ambassador Woods."

Explaining the reason for not rebuilding Yokohama, Japanese officials pointed out that the recent violent earth disturbances have played such havoc with the harbor bottom of the once proud port that it would require the expenditure of an excessive amount of money to dredge the port and remove hundreds of thousands of tons of debris. For a far less cost Tokio could not only be rehabilitated, but in addition the capital city could be made into one of the finest seaports of the far east."

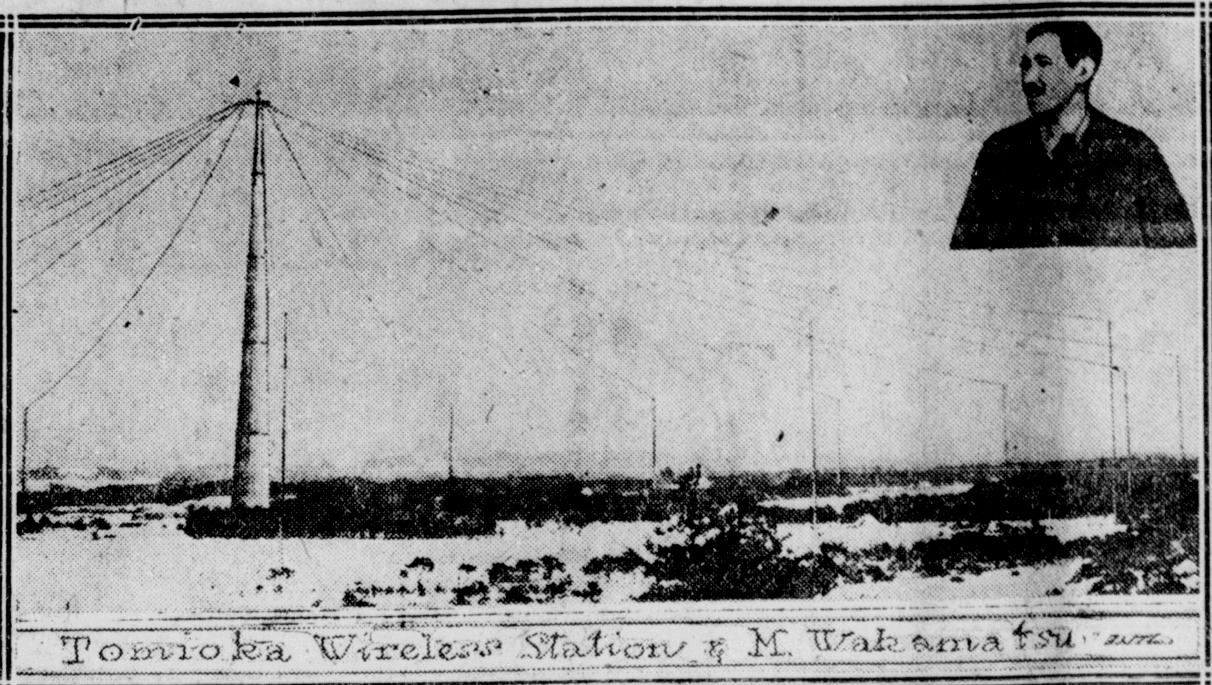

DEATH LIST OF AMERICANS IS 57

Washington, Sept. 12.—Dispatches to the state department today indicated that the U. S. consuls in the Japanese earthquake area had about completed their survey to determine the fate of Americans in Tokio, Yokohama and other cities. There were no additions today to the American death list now standing officially at 57—while Consul Dickinson at Kobe reported the safety of two more—J. Quinn and Charles Miller.

KLANSMAN UNMASK.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 12.—The Ku Klux Klan unmasked on orders of Governor J. C. Walton. No robes, masks or other regalia were worn at ceremonies and initiations at Bristol. Orders were issued by N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Klan for Oklahoma, that no masked parades or meetings would be permitted, in accordance with the governor's orders.

WIRELESS HERO FIRST TOLD OF JAPANESE DISASTER

Tomioka Wireless Station & M. Wakamatsu

The great value of radio communication was demonstrated in the Japanese disaster, for it was by means of the radio alone that the world first learned of the catastrophe, all cables having been severed. The Radio Corporation of America maintains an immense wireless station at Tomioka, through which constant communication was carried on during the earthquake. Great credit is due Mr. Wakamatsu, the Japanese engineer in charge. He marshalled his forces and maintained direct communication. Being the only Japanese there who knew English, he remained at the key for 50 hours, without sleep, to tell the world what had happened. The main tower of the station is 660 feet high, 50 feet in diameter at the base and 14 feet at the top. There are 36 wooden masts, 250 feet high, to which the antennas are strung.

COOLIDGE TO TAKE UP COAL PROBLEM IN PUBLIC BEHALF

Washington, Sept. 12.—The federal government will do everything within its power to see that coal is made available to the people of the United States at reasonable prices.

This statement was made officially at the white house in response to inquiries regarding Governor Pinchot's letter to President Coolidge, urging that prompt steps be taken to safeguard the public against profiteering as a result of the 10 per cent wage increase granted the anthracite miners.

Mr. Coolidge already had taken up the matter of increased prices going out of the hard coal controversy with the United States coal commission, and he now will give the commission some further instructions in the matter. The white house spokesman added: "The federal government will take such action as is possible to secure the distribution of fuel to the people of the United States at as reasonable prices as can be had."

Governor Pinchot, in his letter to the president, asserted that the wage increase agreed upon by the miners and operators under his auspices should in no way result in a price advance of more than 60 cents a ton. Ten cents of this, he declared, should be absorbed by the operators, many of whom could absorb the whole increase "and still make abundant profits." "In fairness," Governor Pinchot added, "the remainder of the 60 cents should never reach the consumer. It is certain, however, that this amount, and probably much more, will be exacted from the consumers unless public action is taken to prevent it."

As a practical means of taking care of a part of the increase, the Pennsylvania executive suggested that the interstate commerce commission could reduce the freight rates on the transportation of hard coal in interstate commerce. Pinchot already has ordered his state public service commission to take up the question of reducing similar rates within Pennsylvania. He also has communicated with his fellow governors of anthracite using states, calling on them to co-operate in a war against gouging.

The governor declared that he had "upon full consideration of all matters presented and being now sufficiently advised in the premises," overruled the motion.

Attorneys for Watkins indicated that appeal will be made to the State Supreme Court from Governor Donahay's decision.

PEOPLE DEMAND SETTLEMENT.

Cologne, Sept. 12.—Public opinion in the Ruhr is undergoing a big change. There appears a keen desire everywhere for a settlement, but the workers are firm in their demand for the return of all expatriated rail men and their families, numbering more than 70,000 persons. The policy of the central German government in paying the workers in the Ruhr on the condition that they refuse to work has brought the industrialists to a realization that they are about to face a hard task to force the workers back to their old jobs for the same money.

WARLIKE RUMORS COME OUT OF BALKAN STATES WITH MOVEMENT OF TROOPS

London, Sept. 12.—Warlike rumors came out of the Balkans today. The Greek populace is reported highly aroused over the quarrel with Italy. According to news from Vienna, "countries bordering the Adriatic" are holding troop trains in readiness.

Blames Fall of Mark On Policy of Germany

Coblenz, Sept. 12.—"Germany's policy of paying Ruhr workers on condition that they loaf is the cause of the disastrous plunge of the mark," President Tirardie of the high commission in the Rhineland, told the International News Service today.

"The population is beginning to believe that heavy burdens are unnecessarily imposed by Berlin in order to carry on passive resistance. Now the people are menaced by famine."

"The commission is doing everything possible to relieve conditions and avert starvation. I just held a conference with representatives of 30 cities, including Mayence, Wiesbaden, Crefeld, Treves, and Coblenz. They were attended by the chief industrialists, merchants and municipal officials. These meetings were most cordial. An organization was created to take a hand in financial matters in the occupied area in co-operation with the high commission.

"We are certain that the people will benefit."

Asked if this was the beginning of a movement for a Rhenish republic, M. Tirardie replied:

"France feels that this is a question for the Rhinelanders to decide. All I can say now is that a considerable part of the Rhenish people want to take their fate in their own hands."

The French believe that passive resistance has weakened the morale of the German workers. It is claimed furthermore that German propaganda has been making the ground more fertile for establishing a Rhineland republic. The newspaper Nach Richtenblatt which apparently favors detachment of the Rhineland, said editorially:

"Many of the German magnates are seized with dizziness as the mark continues its death dance. They are beginning to whisper to themselves: 'Maybe it would have been better if we had paid reparations instead of inviting occupation, but while the employees are yielding the workers cling to passive resistance.'"

ITALY'S PROPOSAL CAUSING CONCERN

Rome, Sept. 12.—Premier Mussolini told his cabinet this afternoon that Italy will not evacuate Corfu until it has been formally decided that Greece has executed in full the demands contained in the allied ambassadors' note of last Saturday.

London, Sept. 12.—The British foreign office is gravely disturbed by the news from Rome that Premier Mussolini has reiterated his determination not to evacuate Corfu until the inquiry into the Janina murders has been completed and the blame finally settled. Officials here believe that Mussolini is pursuing his present course for the purpose of delaying a settlement, because Premier Poincare of France is opposed to Italian retention of the island for fear that Italy might use Corfu as a basis in war with Serbia, which is France's ally. Unless Mussolini changes his program and tactics, Britain is hoping for the support of France in the effort to submit the issue to the league of nations.

REPORT OF TROTSKY'S DEATH IS UNTRUE

Moscow, Sept. 12.—The report originating in Berlin that Leon, Trotsky commissaire for war is dead, is not true.

"You can see I am alive," Trotsky laughed today.

TAKES POISON.

Columbus, Sept. 12.—Shortly after he had been served with divorce papers, Homer L. Moffett wrote his wife a farewell note in which he enclosed 70 cents, and then took poison. He was rushed to a hospital, where it is said he will recover. His home is in Sheridan, Wyo.

ATTORNEY TRAPPED BY OWN WITNESS

New York, Sept. 12.—William J. Fallon, criminal attorney, charged with contempt of court in connection with his defense of Edward M. Fuller and W. Frank McGee, confessed bucketshop operators, was trapped by his own witnesses before Federal Judge Bundy. McGee, while being examined by Fallon, suddenly testified that Fallon tore up a confirmation card of Franklin W. Link, taken out of the Link folder, concerning the sale of 10 shares of stock. "He tore them up and threw them out of a window," McGee declared emphatically in answer to a question from Judge Bundy following an uproar caused by his original accusation. Fuller later took the stand and confirmed the testimony of his former partner. Fallon tried to have the testimony stricken from the records, but failed.

Washington, Sept. 12.—David Lloyd George, former premier of England, will arrive in New York Oct. 5. It was learned here, for his visit to America. The girl died without regaining consciousness. Hood is in jail, and Harris is at his home suffering from injuries. The girl was riding on a motorcycle with Harris when it struck an automobile driven by C. Rederbaugh, near Sidney.

COOPERATION OF STATES SOUGHT BY PRESIDENT

Coolidge Will Confer With
Governors On Law Enforcement

Washington, Sept. 12.—President Coolidge plans to seek state co-operation for law enforcement in general, it was revealed at the White House.

In addition to state aid in making the prohibition laws effective, the president will ask specifically for co-operation in suppression of the drug evil, for enforcement of immigration regulations and other allied questions that have both a state and federal relationship.

These questions will be submitted to the conference of governors which the president contemplates calling this fall. No final decision has been reached as to where the conference will take place. The governors will hold their own annual conference, the meeting of the house of governors, the middle of October at Denver. The president is undecided whether to call the governors here before that meeting or immediately after.

The president believes it would be very helpful for the federal government to have the co-operation of the states in the enforcement of the laws of the United States, a White House spokesman declared, helpful both to the states and to the government.

The president has had conferences within the past week with Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, who submitted suggestions of a program for a discussion of prohibition laws with governors. The determination to include other questions will lead to a revision of this outline to include the narcotic evil.

Following the cabinet meeting the president held conferences with Secretary of Labor Davis and Attorney General Daugherty. The labor secretary is directly charged with enforcement of the immigration laws which the president plans to treat at the meeting with state executives. The actual prosecution of all law violators falls to the department of justice and it is through this department that the law enforcement agencies come in most direct touch with state officers and courts. The interchange of evidence between state and federal officials will enable both government and states in many cases to secure convictions where otherwise the case might fall for lack of sufficient proof.

WOULD CUT SURTAX ON HIGHER INCOMES

Washington, Sept. 12.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon directed tax experts to compile the necessary data to enable him to go before congress with a recommendation for a reduction in the higher income surtaxes.

Mellon will urge that they be cut from a maximum of 50 per cent to 25 per cent. It is understood that President Coolidge will support the recommendation and make it an administration measure.

On good authority it is learned that Secretary Mellon has come to the conclusion that a reduction of the so-called confiscatory tax on higher incomes will not work a hardship on the less wealthy, or poor classes. Instead of bringing money into the treasury, he finds, the large incomes are being converted into tax-exempt securities at the expense of other taxpayers. By removing the so-called higher brackets, he believes, vast sums of money will be turned into profitable and taxable production, which will enable the government to bring down taxes in general much sooner.

DONAHAY REFUSES WATKIN'S PETITION

Columbus, O., Sept. 12.—Governor Donahay today overruled the motion of James Watkins, Youngstown, for a new trial. The governor recently, after a hearing, ordered the removal of Watkins as chief of police at Youngstown for alleged failure to properly enforce dry laws.

ACCIDENTALLY KILLS SON.

On Exploration Tour of
"Dead City."

P. K. Koslov

Peter Kusmitch Koslov, famous explorer, who spent two years in the "Dead City of Hara Hoto," in central Tibet, has left Moscow with a Soviet expedition for three years more of exploration there. Hara Hoto was found to be a deserted city, with everything in it intact, as though the inhabitants had been swallowed up. The most precious "find" was a library of 2,500 volumes from the period of the ninth to the eleventh century. These books are in seven languages—Persian, Sanscrit, Arabic, Mongolian, Tibetan, Tunesian and Sisyva, a heretofore undiscovered language, which was used by the inhabitants of Hara Hoto. This library Koslov took to Moscow, and it is now in the Artistic Museum of the Academy of Sciences, in Petrograd.

Second vice commander, Wallace Thomas, Springfield, and Third vice commander, J. E. Goodman, Ashtabula.

John S. Taylor, Cambridge, was re-elected treasurer.

Zanesville, in the southeast district was selected as the place for the 1924 convention upon invitation from the delegates of that post, backed by the municipal authorities and civic associations.

COOLIDGE NOT TO APPOINT ENVOY

Washington, Sept. 12.—President Coolidge is satisfied with the existing status of relationship with Mexico for the time being and will not appoint an ambassador to the southern republic just now. This statement was made at the white house for the president in denial of reports that he is about to announce the appointment of R. B. Creager of Texas to the Mexico City post. When the time comes to select a Mexican ambassador, it was stated, Mr. Coolidge will confer with Secretary of State Hughes on the subject and will be guided by his recommendations. The belief prevails that no appointment will be made until after congress meets in December, in order that it may be acted upon by the senate.

CLEVELAND REALTOR TO TESTIFY IN TRIAL OF MEN CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY

Cleveland, O., Sept. 12.—Samuel Selker, local realtor, is to take the witness stand for the government today and is expected to testify that through him Louis Auerbach paid $4,000 weekly for "protection" to Attorney Frank Counts, who together with his brother Fred Counts, former prohibition agent for Cleveland; Samuel A. Hoskins, former chairman of the State Civil Service Commission; and Joseph Shearer, former state prohibition director, are facing charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws before Judge D. C. Westenhaver and a jury in Federal District Court.

Benjamin A. Schwartz, former councilman, testified yesterday that he received $5,000 weekly from Auerbach directly. He "kept out $1,000 for himself," Schwartz said, and gave $4,000 to Selker who was to act as the go-between for Schwartz and Frank Counts.

Wreck

NOT BADLY DAMAGED

Total Disaster Narrowly
Averted by Vessel Early
Wednesday.

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 12.—Plunging through a heavy sea and dense fog, the battleship Texas crashed headlong into the freighter Steel Seafarer, off Point Arguello light at 6:55 o'clock this morning, according to word received today at Los Angeles harbor by the Radio Corporation of America.

The crash occurred within 14 miles of the rocks where seven United States destroyers went on the rocks Saturday night and within 50 miles of where the Pacific Mail steamer Cuba also crashed on Saturday.

The message from the Steel Seafarer stated that a large hole had been punched in her side by the battleship's armored prow.

The Texas navigators, evidently catching sight of the Steel Seafarer just before the crashes she loomed out of the fog, reversed the battleship's powerful engines, narrowly averting a third total disaster in the same locality within a week. The Texas is believed to have escaped serious injury because of the heavy belt of armor protecting her.

Styles BY LENORE

Decorative. That is the unmistakable sign to know in regard to Fall footwear. Not the bright-hued slippers that were such a tantalizing temptation even to the more conservative, but ornate strapped pumps will be worn, similar to those illustrated, and there will be buckle and pearl trimmings, and slippers with clever gadget inserts.

Suede, in black and the various shades of brown are shown for street wear. Satin is to be worn for formal afternoon frocks. And for the evening, the sandal again is featured, multi-strapped, and made of gold and silver metal cloth.

And if you have ever resorted to the trick, in midwinter, of protecting your ankles by wearing a pair of lisle stockings under the fashionable chiffon hose, now it can be told—for a well-known hosiery manufacturer has recognized this need with the "invisible" stocking illustrated in the sketch.

DROWNING CURSE CLINGS TO BATTLE ABBEY

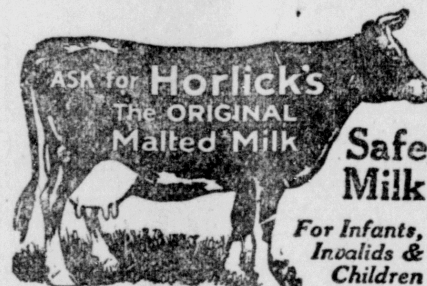

Battle Abbey, 1874.

The death by drowning of Sir Augustus Webster, the owner of Battle Abbey, recalls in a startling manner the "drowning curse" on the historic spot. Battle Abbey was built on the scene of the Battle of Hastings, in England, as a monastery, but a later English king dispossessed the monks and gave the castle to one of his favorites. A monk is said to have cursed the place, predicting that all its owners would drown. Many did. The eighth Lord Montague, who owned it before the Websters, was drowned. Twenty-two years later his sister was drowned. The estate was then let to Michael Grace, an American millionaire, and his daughter, Mrs. Hubert Beaumont, was drowned. Lady Webster was drowned while trying to save her daughter, Evelyn, from drowning. Sir Augustus' only son was killed in the World War.

TOTAL OF 1,923 PUPILS ENROLLED IN CITY SCHOOLS

A total of 1,923 pupils were enrolled in the Xenia City public schools on the opening day, according to figures made public Wednesday by C. A. Waltz, superintendent of schools.

The total is an excess of 103 pupils over the opening day last year when 1,819 pupils began their studies. There are almost 100 children yet to report this year, it is said, and on the basis of last year's total attendance the enrollment this year will be about 2,100.

The unexpected increase in attendance over the city has necessitated the addition of one or two extra teachers to take care of the children in spite of the increase teaching force over last year's numbers. The attendance in three of the first grades—McKinley, Lincoln and Spring Hill, is 182, according to Mr. Waltz, including 67 at McKinley, 54 at Spring Hill and 61 at Lincoln.

As a result of this congested condition, half day sessions will be inaugurated in those grades to relieve the condition. One group of children will attend school from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock in the morning and the other group from 12:45 to 3:45 o'clock in the afternoon. Additional teachers will have to be added at Lincoln and Spring Hill buildings in order to take care of the congestion in the third, fourth and fifth grades. There are 104 children in the fourth and fifth grades at Lincoln and 103 in the third and fifth grades at Spring Hill. Children of the first grades in buildings are to be in school at 8:30 o'clock and should be started from home so that they will arrive at their buildings at that time, according to Superintendent Waltz. The cafeteria will begin serving lunches at the new Central High School Thursday, it is announced.

The enrollment by classes follows: Central High School—freshmen, 134; sophomores, 123; juniors, 93; seniors, 89—Total 439; McKinley Junior High—seventh grade, 109; eighth grade—99—total, 208.

East High School—freshmen, 25; sophomores, 22; juniors, 22; seniors 21—total, 90; Lincoln Junior High—seventh grades, 35; eighth grade, 28—total, 63.

Orient Hill—First grade 21; second grade, 11; third grade, 18; fourth grade, 14—total, 64.

Spring Hill—First grade, 53; second grade, 30; third grade, 49; fourth grade, 40; fifth grade, 54; sixth grade, 39; Total—265.

McKinley—First grade A, 67; First grade B, 32; second A, 37; second B, 33; Third A, 42; third B, 41; fourth A, 35; fourth B, 27; fifth A, 34; fifth B, 40; sixth A, 41; sixth B, 35. Mixed fourth and fifth grade 27. Total 491.

Lincoln—First grade, 57; second grade, 41; third grade, 36; fourth grade, 61; fifth grade 43; sixth grade 22. Total—260.

AUTO SIDESWIPE AND PASSENGER PAINFULLY HURT

Leslie Moore, 18, of 215 West Main Street, is in City Hospital, Springfield, suffering from a dislocated hip, fractured hip socket and other injuries sustained in an automobile accident near Springfield, Tuesday night.

Moore was riding on the running board of a roadster owned and driven by William Gowdy, of the Upper Bellbrook pike, when the side of the machine was struck by a roadster driven by John Thomas, colored of South Bend, Indiana, about four miles from Springfield on the Clifton pike.

Moore was rushed to the hospital in a touring car near the scene of the accident, where it was first thought the hip bone was fractured. Further examination by hospital surgeons Wednesday showed he is suffering from a dislocated hip, that the hip socket is fractured, a deep gash in the left hip, bruised ribs on the left side and a cut on the left hand. He will probably be kept at the hospital two weeks before he can be brought to his home here.

Miss Doris Whittington of this city, Mrs. Lulu Himes of Dayton, and Philip Moore and Raymond Snodgrass of this city, who were in the car, were uninjured. The party was on its way to Springfield at the time the accident occurred. Gowdy, who was driving, slowed down behind a touring car to permit the roadster traveling south, to pass. After passing the touring car in advance, it is believed Thomas cut back into the center of the road too quickly.

The machine struck the local car along the left running board on which Moore was riding, leaning against the back fender. The running board was crushed, and torn away from the rear fender, so that the jagged end of the fender was thrust into Moore's hip in advance, it is believed Thomas cut back into the center of the road too quickly.

Hospital surgeons say that his injuries will not be permanent.

Seventy-Fourth O. V. I. Meet in G. A. R. Rooms

Judge H. L. Smith, president of the City Commission, delivered the welcoming address Wednesday morning to a dozen or more members of the Seventy-fourth Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry, meeting in the rooms of Lewis Post, G. A. R., in the Court House.

Only a remnant of the regiment that marched forth from this section and played such a valiant part in the battles for freedom during the Civil War, was left to attend the annual conclave here. Many others, unable to attend, were there in spirit through their letters of regret read at the morning session.

The welcoming address of Judge Smith was followed by a reply by T. J. North of Vandalia, president of the organization. Only a brief business session occupied the veterans Wednesday morning. They had luncheon at the Elks' Club and resumed their business session Wednesday afternoon when officers for the ensuing year were to be elected.

MAN ELECTROCUTED IN DAYTON PLANT

Dayton, Sept. 12.—George B. Noble, 22, Dayton, asked a workman in the plant of the Delco-Light Company, Dayton, this morning if he would get a shock if he touched a feeder-wire of an electric enamel-baking oven.

Noble caught hold of the wire and when he failed to receive a shock, grabbed the other wire, completing the circuit. Voltage amounting to 5,500 passed through and he died in a few minutes after being pulled from the wires by workmen.

THE RULE OF SELF.

Contentment does not come till a man has brought his own being into subjection to certain laws which through the ages have been slowly formulated and vindicated by the general experience of mankind.

The rule of self, meaning control over self, costs struggle. The rule of self, meaning doing as one pleases, without any care for pain to others or harm to those who are trying to live, is the easy way to take; but Nature plays no favorites, she inflexibly affixes and collects her penalties, and the fool pays. "The sin ye do by two and two ye must pay for one by one."

The moralist is least welcome when he preaches control to the uncontrolled. It is held that the time through which we pass is peculiarly depraved and given to strange gods. So men who thought at all have thought in every period our earth has survived. As soon as the earth began to be populated some of the people were grieved and shocked at the behavior of the rest and started to reform them. It is easy to condemn the reformer and, because certain reformers have failed and fallen, to set them all down as miserable hypocrites. If anything is sadder than the fall of a minister of God, it is those who rejoice over it.

But there must be control, whether the advocates of untrammelled personal liberty care for it or not. What an unbearable earth it would be if a thousand restraints did not interpose to safeguard the individual! The first and the last effort must be that sober rule where a man sets watch and ward on his own nature, as one who says, "For their sakes I sanctify myself."

PUBLICITY-SEEKING LOBBYISTS' NEW DODGE.

Every one concedes the easiest way to get publicity in Washington is to tie your game up with the White House in some manner or other. The politicians have known it for years, and that is why they are such assiduous callers at the Executive Mansion. If they walk in and merely shake hands with the President, "paying respects," as it is called, they are in a fair way toward putting over an interview on the subject closest to their heart.

More recently various interests have discovered the dodge, and their lobbyists are seen as frequently at the executive offices as in the halls of the Capitol. A petition, memorial or open letter to the President usually proves ample to tell the world how important their project is. But lately mere individuals have caught on, and their pet method for obtaining personal publicity is to hold the beautiful old White House up to ridicule as an unfit place for the President of the United States to reside. They want the stately Colonial structure torn down and something resembling a hotel put up so the President will have "more conveniences."

A Westerner recently sniffed that there were finer residences in Oklahoma City, and the latest person to advocate dismantling the White House was a North Carolina preacher, who made the credible statement that there were real estate men in Charlotte who had more expensive houses. The pastor would put the President and his family in a hotel for the nonce, scrap the White House, sell the immemorial bricks to souvenir collectors and with the proceeds erect this hotel-like building he has in mind.

The plan, which he says will "not cost the Government a postage stamp," was evolved after he spent a half hour "inspecting" the White House and left "heart-broken to see what a dilapidated building the President of the United States must use as home."

DOLLARS, AND OTHER THINGS.

From the "Labors of Love," monthly publication by Christ Hospital, Cincinnati, we take the following of local interest: "Dr. W. A. Robinson, our financial secretary, has kindly let us have his report for July, and we share with our readers this glimpse into the days of a busy man."

Dr. Robinson was at his task every one of the five Sundays in July. Some of them seem very strenuous for hot summer days. For instance: "The third Sunday I was at Trinity, Xenia. Pastor absent. I spent Saturday night with my friend J. W. Johnson, in Dayton. At 8:30 Sunday morning he took me in his auto to West Carrollton where a staunch friend of our work, who had just returned from a trip around the world, gave me his check for $100. Then to Xenia, where I found, as they had standard time, I could see a certain big-hearted lover of mankind before I was due at the church. He gave me $25. Thence to the church where to a small audience I spoke $60 worth. Got the Interurban to Dayton in time for the 12:25 train and was at home by 4 p. m., singing 'One More Day's Work for Jesus.'"

THE RIGHT MAN.

Senator James E. Watson, Hoosier statesman, was a caller at the White House. As he prepared to end his visit he said to President Coolidge:

"Mr. President, is there anything I can do for you?"

"Just look after the good old Republican party," was the reply.

"You are speaking to the right man," commented Watson.

CARRY YOUR BAG?

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Xenia is soon to have a new addition and one that will prove quite popular. A tract of fine land, opposite the entrance to the O. S. and S. O. Home, is to be platted and thirty three building lots, separated by broad streets and good alleys, laid out. Walker Gibeon leaves this week for Muskingum College, where he will enter the preparatory department.

Trinity M. E. Church has been greatly beautified, and the whole interior has been so handsomely decorated that it looks like a "spick and span" new church.

A shortage of something over $3,000 has been discovered in the Beavercreek township funds. The matter has been the subject of comment in the vicinity of Alpha for some time.

THE JOY OF CREATION

On my way to work each day I pass the window of a railroad office. In it is the perfect model of a modern engine. I never pass it but I think of the crude model that George Stephenson made years and years before this one was conceived.

And my mind immediately reacts to the idea of creation—the joy that the makers of those two models took in bringing out something that would revolutionize much of living and doing.

There is no joy like that of creation—dipping into the elements and so forming them that they combine for the furthering of power and inspiration.

So to phrase a group of words that the very heart of one rises in its seat, and the entire physical life takes upon itself new zest—what a gift is this!

To sit for an evening and read from the pages of Kipling or Stevenson or George Sand, or Joseph Conrad, to follow these minds as they revel in the joy of creation, is to furnish immortal food to the mind.

But the joy of creation into your work—no matter what it may be—and you will have no fear as to compensation. For creation of itself is a compensation, more precious than any gift of mere money.

God's greatest joy was and is that of creation.

Go where you will, you will see growing things—every moment changing into something new and beautiful.

Even the dead tree, standing alone out there in the field, stripped of all its former life and warmth and beauty, will some day crackle in flames to warm many a cold body; or it will be formed into usefulness in the shape of a chair, or a table, or perhaps some cozy home where love will abound.

Create and you need have no fear of what lies before you. Create and you will sooner or later find your larger self.

The average housekeeper does not appreciate the value of the green sweet pepper on the home table. At this season of the year the pepper is at its best. Let us serve it often. The following recipes are at foot:

Eggs in Pepper Cases: Cut green peppers in two lengthwise, remove seeds and wash well. Place the halves in a saucepan of hot water over the fire and let boil for 20 minutes; this removes the strong taste and partly cooks the vegetable. Then drain well and fill as follows: sprinkle dry bread crumbs in the bottom of each half-pepper; add a layer of finely minced cooked ham; season with a little salt and pepper, then break an egg into each pepper-case. Place a small piece of butter on top of each egg, and bake the pepper-halves in a moderate oven till the egg whites are set. Serve at once.

Green Pepper Salad: Cut slices

from stem ends of six green peppers and remove seeds. Wash the peppers well, then fill them with the following mixture: Dice the pulp of one large grapefruit and add to it one cupful of finely-cut celery and a few English walnut-meats broken small. Moisten with a little Mayonnaise dressing before putting his mixture into the peppers. Top each filled pepper with a dab of Mayonnaise and chill well before serving.

Unusual Stuffed Baked Peppers: This is a fine dish for children. Boil enough rice to make two cupfuls, cooked. Stew enough fresh, ripe tomatoes to make one-half cupful of thick pulp (or use the more solid parts of canned tomatoes). Moisten the cooked brown rice with this tomato pulp, add two tablespoons of butter, a pinch of pepper, one-half teaspoon of salt and one pint of thick white sauce (made by thickening a pint of sweet milk with two tablespoons of flour and adding one teaspoon of butter). Stuff the pepper-cases with this mixture and lay a slice of uncooked bacon over each. Bake for 40 minutes in a moderate oven in a pan containing two cups of hot water; every ten minutes baste the peppers with this pan liquor. Serve hot.

Lamb Pepper Stew: This is an excellent recipe for serving left-overs from a leg of lamb. Cut the cold meat into cubes or small chips and warm it in let-over brown-gravy; also add strips of green sweet peppers which have been previously seeded and cooked until very tender (about 40 minutes of steady boiling). Season with salt and serve on toast.

BACK BAD TODAY?

Backache is usually kidney-ache and makes you dull, nervous and tired. Use Doan's Kidney Pills for weak kidneys—the remedy recommended by your friends and neighbors. Ask your neighbor!

O. T. Smith, retired railroad man, 516 W. Second St., Xenia, says: "I had no end of kidney trouble and suffered a great deal with lumbago. Sharp, piercing pains shot through the small of my back and I could hardly straighten after stooping. Colds settled on my kidneys, leaving them extremely weak and irregular in action. Nights I got up four or five times to pass the secretions which were highly colored and contained a sediment like brick dust. Doan's Kidney Pills had been so highly recommended that I got some. Several boxes relieved me of these terrible pains in my back and my kidneys were put in a normal condition."

TEARING DOWN AND BUILDING UP

There is ever the tearing down And the building up again; There's nothing in city or town Man fashions long to remain. Better's a constant cry, Bigger's a constant call, And even beneath the sky We fling up our towers to fall.

The sound of the blast by day Shall deafen our puny speech, As the old to the new gives way And higher we strive to reach What was but a year ago A glorious goal attained, We are turning from now to know The goal that shall soon be gained.

Shall ever we sit and see The last of our building done? Shall ever the morning be When there's no new dream begun? Not while men seek renown And a drop of life's in the cup, Shall we pause in our tearing down Or halt in our building up.

For better's our constant cry And bigger's our constant call, Both buildings and builders die And changes come to us all.

And the old shall give way to the new And the hammers of men shall ring So long as the skies are blue And the flowers bloom in the spring

GRIDIRON TALENT

AT WILBERFORCE U.

FORECASTS STAR 11

Football prospects at Wilberforce University are looking up, following the first call for candidates issued by the coaching staff at the colored school Monday evening.

The addition of Harry Jefferson, former all-Ohio center, to the mentoring staff at Wilberforce this year shows a determination on the part of athletic officials at the school to put Wilberforce on the athletic map.

Jefferson won his spurs in the Ohio Conference preceding his graduation in 1922. He tips the beam at 225 pounds. Dean Mohr, last year's coach has been made director of athletics and will have personal charge of the basketball team. Jefferson will be head football coach and will direct his attention to the line while Coach Mohr and Purcell will tutor backfield candidates.

Many letter men will be back when school starts September 18, and much new talent will also be available according to Coach Mohr. Among letter men returning are "Pete" Willett, the Cleveland flash, Huff, the big full back, Hurd, a half back, Redden, R. Lewis, House, R. Smith, S. Brown, L. Turner, G. Coleman, William Spriggs and Stout.

Coach Mohr is proud of the new talent that will be available this year. Woolridge, an end, was an all-Indiana high school player at Worthington, Indiana last fall. Johnson, of Evanston, (Ill.) High, who played on the Evanston basketball team here last winter, Craft, who comes to Wilberforce from Bishop College, Texas, "Woo Fang" Ward, of Cincinnati, who played with the American Legion basketball team last year, Bickett and Fields, two all-West Virginia tackles from Garret High, Charleston, W. Va., and Richie, of Evanston, are some of the new stars.

Richie was captain of the mythical all-Evanston team, an all-Cook County back in football, all-Cook County back in football, all-Cook County second base in baseball, all-Cook County forward in basketball man in baseball. Woolridge will be coached to succeed Captain Tripp, who graduated, at end.

When school starts next week, coaches will start whipping this material in shape for the opening practice game which between the Varsity and scrubs at Wilberforce October 6. The school will face a tough schedule including a big inter-sectional game with Howard University at Washington D. C., November 3, and an encounter with West Virginia at Columbus November 29. Other teams to be met will be Simmons, of Louisville, Kentucky, Normal Rogers, Williams and Chillicothe.

FIRPO SEEMS FIT

FOR TITLE BATTLE

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 12.—Luis Angel Firpo, challenger for the world's heavyweight crown, will enter for New York late today. The New York headquarters prior to the fight will be in West 94th street.

Today the Argentine challenger displayed a fair amount of speed, boxing one round each with Frank Koebe, the speedy Brooklynite and two others. The rope broke on Firpo's right arm appeared to be healing and is not expected to give him any trouble, barring the ever-present possibility of infection.

JAMESTOWN

The Community Service Club announces the first meeting of the year at the school house Friday afternoon, Sept. 14, at three o'clock. Judge Kyle of Xenia will address the meeting and all who are interested in the school and in the work of the club are very cordially invited.

Women to attract must Radiate Health!

BEAUTY is the magnet which draws all eyes—and back to beauty—Health—working silently—Red blood tingling through the veins—the glow of youth in the cheeks—the spring of eagerness, of vim, of vitality in the walk—the ever graceful air, unrestrained by care or worry—All the charms of beauty. All the works of health.

Men are fascinated by the charm of beauty. Women gaze with envy secretly jealous, perhaps—wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness that is not theirs.

But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that craved-for attractiveness—that beauty. Good looks is the barometer of one's condition. Good health radiates beauty.

S. S. S. purifies the blood—creates new red blood cells—rids the system of impurities which make beauty an attractiveness impossible. As women to attract must radiate health so must they keep their systems free from impurities and their red blood cells ever increasing. S. S. S. does both.

S. S. S., since 1828, has been ridding the system of impurities—pimples, blackheads, boils, eczema, rheumatism—building red blood cells—aiding women to be attractive by radiating health. S. S. S. is made of carefully selected herbs and barks scientifically prepared and propounded. All good drug stores carry S. S. S. It is more economical to purchase the large size bottle.

BOYS ARRESTED AS FIRE BREAKS OUT

Five boys were arrested by Police Tuesday night after they are alleged to have entered the cob bin at the DeWine Milling Company mill, Bellbrook Avenue, and are said to have started a fire in cobs.

Police believe timely intervention of officers, who stamped out the blaze, saved the mill from destruction. Donald Lemons, aged 12; Francis Dudley, aged 17; Herbert Rallison, Charles Coates, aged 17 and Howard Coates, aged 18, were arrested by Patrolmen Simms and Thompson, who went to the scene.

Shoemaker and Coates, who are on parole from the State Reformatory, according to police, are still being held. Rallison and Dudley were released after a lecture and Lemons was turned over to Juvenile Judge J. C. Marshall.

Patrolman Simms investigated a report from Mrs. Samuel Manor, Dayton Hill at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night that two men were seen looking in a window of her home. The intruders were not found.

Charles Johnson, aged 12, and Russell Johnson, aged 14, brothers and wards of the state at the Ohio Soldier's and Sailors' Orphans' Home, here were returned to the institution Tuesday night after an unsuccessful attempt to run away.

The boys are said to have left the institution Tuesday with the intention of going to their home in Chillicothe. They rode on a truck out the Jamestown pike until the truck driver learned they were running away and put them off. A woman driver picked them up and turned them over to Chief of Police M. E. Graham at Police Headquarters.

They were given a stiff reprimand before Colonel Sylvius Garver, Home superintendent, who returned them to the institution.

When directly above the Ohio River the plane fell, diving into the water. It was wrecked.

As the plane neared the water General Mitchell and Woodruff jumped, and were several feet away when it dived into the river. Both swam ashore. General Mitchell took off a short time later in another machine for Selfridge Field, Mt. Clemens, Mich., giving up the trip to Dayton.

More for Your Money

Swapping things—as when our grandmothers traded eggs for calico at the cross-roads store—gives a better understanding of values. By measuring one thing against another we too can often judge values more clearly.

Coal and wages make up more than half the manufacturing cost of cement.

The chart above shows price fluctuations for portland cement, coal and wages during the past ten years. In each case 100 is used to represent 1913 figures, by the Government departments which compiled these statistics.

Translated into "eggs and calico" language, this chart shows that a ton of coal would buy nearly twice as much cement in 1922 as in 1913. A day's wages also would buy more cement in 1922 than in 1913.

This means that even though coal and wages make up more than half its manufacturing cost, cement is now relatively lower in price than either coal or wages.

So, considering these increased costs, it is plain that in buying cement you get more for your money than before.

WORKMEN RUSHING VESTIBULE WORK AT CENTRAL HIGH

Delays in shipments of marble and the discovery that a considerable amount of the marble had been broken on arrival, has held up completion of the handsome doorway and vestibule of the new Central High School Building, school authorities, have announced.

Builds in the new building are under the entrances at each end, while workmen are rushing completion of the front entrance vestibule and stairway. With the exception of matters of slight importance there remains nothing to be completed about the building except the entrance way.

Pupils were made comfortable at once, Monday, and seats and lockers were assigned Monday night and Tuesday. Tuesday there was little confusion as pupils were acclimating themselves to the atmosphere of the new building. A few freshmen got lost Monday in finding their way to the different classes, but they were set right by more sophisticated upper classmen.

Much of the furniture of the new building was made by manual training students last year under the direction of V. L. Fairies, head of that department, and his former assistant, Carrol Zumbro. Among this furniture were tables for the cafeteria, to be operated by cooking students. Especially constructed table-cabinets for pupils in the cooking department are also the handiwork of students under Mr. Fairies' direction.

These tables are of oak construction, provided with drawers and cabinets, and equipped for two pupils each. They are connected with a hot plate on top for the individual cooking. The manual training students are also expected to construct and erect the new bleachers for the Cox Memorial Athletic field. Much money was saved the public through the use of the department in building this equipment. It is pointed out while also giving the students practical work. Meals will probably be started in the new cafeteria the latter part of this week.

George Weekes, marble contractor, is in charge of setting the marble that will make the main entrance way the most imposing part of the new structure. A dark marble base, of American marble, is used in contrast with the imported Italian product that will furnish the panels of the stairway and the vestibule. More than 1,000 pieces of marble will be laid in the entranceway when it is completed.

Weekes started the job here in April, but owing to delays in getting material was away from here two months. Delays are still holding up the work, part of marble railing having been rejected by the architects. The entranceway will be finished within a few more weeks, it is promised.

A WIFE'S STORY

By Jane Phelps

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters

Ruby Atkins, 18, marries Paul Norwood, who at 25 has already dissipated a small fortune. Paul, somewhat of a dilettante and writing a book, is objected to by Ruby's parents. There are two children, both girls. Paul has a studio in New York but insists his family remain in the country. He tells Ruby nothing of his affairs. Publishers refuse his book and he burns it. Ruby makes friends, Evelyn Markham being her intimate.

Dave Logan is introduced, a coarse, common man, whom at first Ruby distrusts. Logan, however, places Paul with a motor concern and Ruby comes to regard him only as a good friend. Paul resigns and Ruby again fears hard times. Logan promises to help; then war is declared and Paul accepts a secretarial position principally to be in Paris. He promises to send money but affixes to Ruby thinks of Logan and phones him, only to find he is in the hospital.

A MOVE TO THE CITY

Chapter XXV.
Things looked terribly black to me. I knew nothing of business, no way to earn money, yet money I must have. There were three of us to live; and I could expect nothing from Paul for weeks, perhaps longer.

Had I been sure Paul would send me money regularly, perhaps I might have tried to satisfy the tradesmen by promises, but knowing my husband I dared not. I simply told them they would be paid, that as fast as I could I would give them all we owed.

Naturally they gumbled. They had carried us for large and lesser amounts for years and wanted their money. One man said:

"You can live in a fine house, better than mine. It is strange you can't pay me."

His remarks set me thinking. Why not give up the house, find a cheap place. At once I commenced to look. But there was no house in the community available, no small house. I talked with Evelyn, not telling her quite how I was situated, yet making it plain I must reduce expenses.

"I must find work too," I told her. She was all helpful sympathy.

"Why not take a few rooms in town? If you succeed in finding something to do it will be easier than commuting," she said.

"A few furnished rooms would be enough for you and the children. And you'll have to get work in town. There's nothing here."

We discussed the matter for some time, also what I might find to do. I knew nothing of typing or stenography so could obtain nothing in that line. A place in a store, preferably a small shop would be the best I could hope for. I decided to waste no time but to look for such a position at once. I almost weakened as I thought of Paul's disgust should he find it out, his anger. But another bill gave me the requisite courage.

First I must get moved. And oh, the discouragement of house hunting in New York! Finally I found two rooms in a private house, neither attractive nor overly clean for $20 a month. They were on the top floor, and the landlady told me "dirt cheap."

I was fortunate enough to sublet our house in the middle of the month, so saving half the rent Paul had given me. That I gave to my new landlady. We were sure of a roof over us for two months and I had a few dollars left for food. Then I started out looking for a job.

It seemed to me I visited every shop and store in the city before I finally secured a place in the dress department of one of the large shops, secured it on trial because they were short of help and the fall season had just begun. The salary was $20 a week.

How I worked to please the angular woman at the head of the department, knowing I was overdoing, feeling so tired at night I could not sleep. I had to mend for the children, cook our dinner and tidy the rooms at night. I could not do it and reach the store in time in the morning. Then the children must have their breakfast, to be sent off to school.

At the end of two months I fainted away in the store, was sent home, and was ill for weeks. Only the knowledge that we had reached the last dollar enabled me to get up and try again. But my place was filled they had nothing for me.

Evelyn was my good angel. I could sew nicely, and she gave me some work and enlisted her friends. I could be at home with the children and that was a great consideration. Joan had not grown easier to manage, was a wilful child, although sweet and loving at times. She needed constant care or would soon be even harder to control.

I had written Paul that we had moved into town because of the cheaper rents. It was just ten weeks from the time he left me before he sent me any remittance although I had received several short hastily written letters. He sent me $20 apologizing, that is it was as much of an apology as he would make, for not sending more because it cost so much to live in Paris now that the world was at war. He more than hinted that I go home and live until his return. Said he thought it the place for the children.

But I knew father's feeling on the subject of husbands supporting their wives, knew that I never should even let them know my needs as long as I could keep the children in food and clothes.

When "Cut-off" While Telephoning

A TELEPHONE "cut-off" may be due to the temporary disarrangement of signal mechanisms at the switchboard, or just a plain human mistake by the operator.

The person called should immediately hang up his receiver when "cut-off".

The person who made the call should ask the operator to re-establish the connection thus: When the operator says, "Number, please", say, "I called Number _____ and was cut-off".

If the person who is called keeps his receiver off the hook after he has been "cut-off", his line will test "busy" and may be so reported when the calling party is trying to reach him again.

SIXTY THOUSAND BODIES BURIED IN TOKIO CITY

Casualties at Yokohama
Now Are Estimated
At 110,000.

DISPATCH RECEIVED

Property Damage Enor-
mous But Not Yet
Fully Estimated

Washington, Sept. 12.—Casualties in Yokohama are now estimated at 110,000, or one-quarter of the entire population, while in Tokio the authorities up to the night of Sept. 8 had incinerated the bodies of 60,000 fire and earthquake victims, according to an official dispatch to the Japanese embassy here.

Following the first shock on Sept. 1, there were 1,319 separate shocks recorded up to 6 o'clock on the morning of Sept. 6, the dispatch states, adding:

"The population of the whole affected area is 6,000,000. The property damage, which, of course, is immense, is not yet determined or estimated."

"An official investigation by the ministry for foreign affairs shows that in Yokohama 3,000 foreign residents 100 killed, including 50 British and 20 Americans. Of the survivors, only nine remained ashore, most of the others having gone to Kobe aboard the Empress Australia and the Andre Lebon, some others remaining on board the steamers Amboise and Empress of Canada, including the staffs of foreign embassies, legations and consulates, which are directing the work for the relief of their nations. The government is co-operating in the matter of communications and transportation."

"The Tokyo prefectural government is guarding the property of the foreigners at Yokohama, collecting the dead and taking all possible measures of salvage."

"Up to midnight Sept. 8 the authorities in Tokio had burned the bodies of 60,000 dead. The number still uncounted, those drowned, buried under debris or burned in the general conflagration, is probably very great."

First Aid to Injured.

"Up to the 8th in Tokio first aid had been administered in the emergency hospital stations to upwards of 500,000 injured and sick."

"Casualties in the Chiba and Kanagawa regions are great, but the investigation is not yet completed."

"Railways and other communications are rapidly being restored. Supplies of general commodities are increasing and authorities state that there will be no shortage of rice for two months and a half in Yokohama and Tokio."

"Many of the industrial, commercial and publishing houses are planning to remove temporarily to the Kobe and Osaka districts, but there is no truth in reports that the capital is to be removed from Tokio, the dispatch states."

"At least 50 Americans are now reported to have perished in Tokio in spite of previous statements that no casualties among American residents of the Japanese capital had occurred. The information was officially given out by American Ambassador Woods."

Explaining the reason for not rebuilding Yokohama, Japanese officials pointed out that the recent violent earthquake disturbances have played such havoc with the harbor bottom of the once proud port that it would require the expenditure of an excessive amount of money to dredge the port and remove hundreds of thousands of tons of debris. For a relatively cost Tokio could not only be rehabilitated, but in addition the capital city could be made into one of the finest seaports of the far east."

"The governor declared that he had upon full consideration of all matters presented and being now sufficiently advised in the premises," overruled the motion.

Attorneys for Watkins indicated that appeal will be made to the State Supreme Court from Governor Donahey's decision.

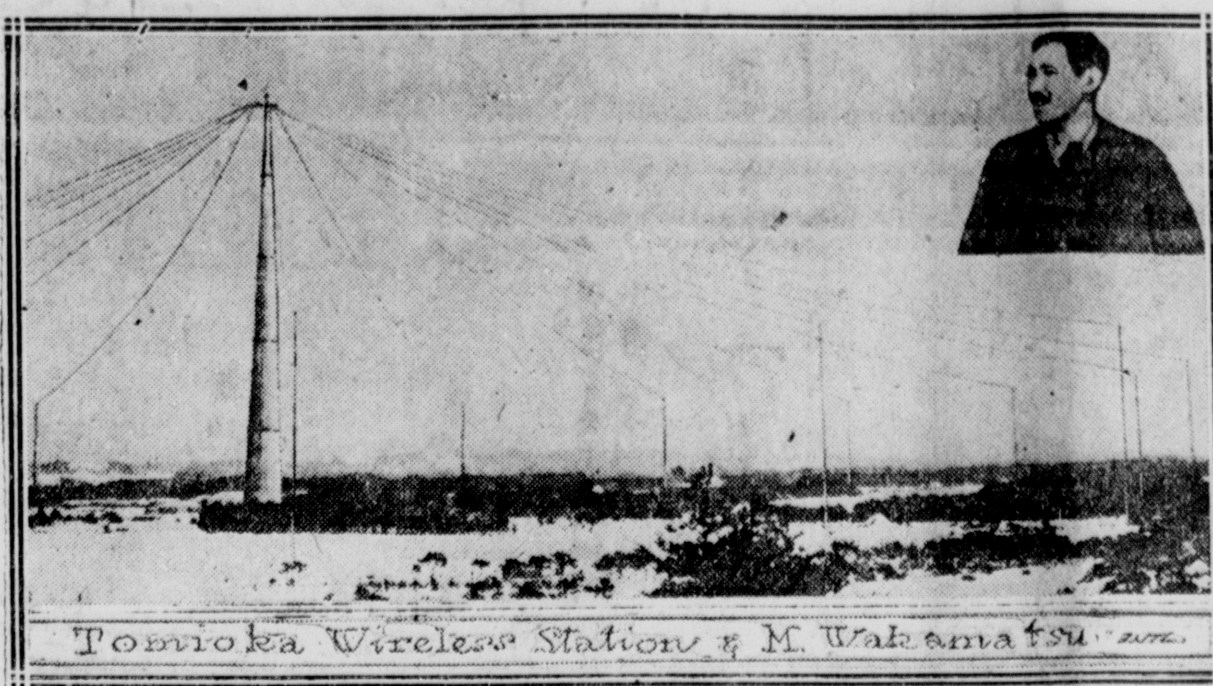

DEATH LIST OF AMERICANS IS 57

Washington, Sept. 12.—Dispatches to the state department today indicated that the U. S. consuls in the Japanese earthquake area had about completed their survey to determine the fate of Americans in Tokio, Yokohama and other cities. There were no additions today to the American death list—now standing officially at 57—while Consul Dickinson at Kobe reported the safety of two more—J. Quini and Charles Miller.

KLANSMAN UNMASK.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 12.—The Ku Klux Klan unmasked on orders of Governor J. C. Walton. No robes, masks or other regalia were worn at ceremonies and initiations at Bricktown. Orders were issued by N. C. Jewett, grand dragon of the Klan for Oklahoma, that no masked parades or meetings would be permitted, in accordance with the governor's orders.

WIRELESS HERO FIRST TOLD OF JAPANESE DISASTER

Tomioka Wireless Station at Yokohama, Japan.

The great value of radio communication was demonstrated in the Japanese disaster, for it was by means of the radio alone that the world first learned of the catastrophe, all cables having been severed. The Radio Corporation of America maintains an immense wireless station at Tomioka, through which constant communication was carried on during the earthquake. Great credit is due Mr. Wakamatsu, the Japanese engineer in charge. He marshalled his forces and maintained direct communication. Being the only Japanese there who knew English, he remained at the key for 50 hours, without sleep, to tell the world what had happened. The main tower of the station is 660 feet high, 50 feet in diameter at the base and 14 feet at the top. There are 36 wooden masts, 250 feet high, to which the antennas are strung.

COOLIDGE TO TAKE UP COAL PROBLEM IN PUBLIC BEHALF

Washington, Sept. 12.—The federal government will do everything within its power to see that coal is made available to the people of the United States at reasonable prices.

This statement was made officially at the white house in response to inquiries regarding Governor Pinchot's letter to President Coolidge, urging that prompt steps be taken to safeguard the public against profiteering as a result of the 10 per cent wage increase granted the anthracite miners.

Mr. Coolidge already had taken up the matter of increased prices growing out of the hard coal controversy with the United States coal commission, and he now will give the commission some further instructions in the matter. The white house spokesman added: "The federal government will take such action as is possible to secure the distribution of fuel to the people of the United States at reasonable prices as can be had."

Governor Pinchot, in his letter to the president, asserted that the wage increase agreed upon by the miners and operators under his auspices should in no way result in a price advance of more than 60 cents a ton. Ten cents of this, he declared, should be absorbed by the operators, many of whom could absorb the whole increase "and still make abundant profits."

"In fairness," Governor Pinchot added, "the remainder of the 60 cents should never reach the consumer. It is certain, however, that this amount, and probably much more, will be exacted from the consumers unless public action is taken to prevent it."

As a practical means of taking care of a part of the increase, the Pennsylvania executive suggested that the interstate commerce commission could reduce the freight rates on the transportation of hard coal in interstate commerce. Pinchot already has ordered his state public service commission to take up the question of reducing similar rates within Pennsylvania. He also has communicated with his fellow governors of anthracite using states, calling on them to co-operate in a war against gouging.

The governor declared that he had upon full consideration of all matters presented and being now sufficiently advised in the premises," overruled the motion.

Attorneys for Watkins indicated that appeal will be made to the State Supreme Court from Governor Donahey's decision.

PEOPLE DEMAND SETTLEMENT.

Cologne, Sept. 12.—A strong opinion in the Ruhr is undergoing a big change. There appears a keen desire everywhere for a settlement, but the workers are firm in their demand for the return of all expatriated rail men and their families, numbering more than 70,000 persons. The policy of the central German government in paying the workers in the Ruhr on the condition that they refuse to work has brought the industrialists to a realization that they are about to face a hard task to force the workers back to their old jobs for the same money.

Attorneys for Watkins indicated that appeal will be made to the State Supreme Court from Governor Donahey's decision.

REPORT OF TROTSKY'S DEATH IS UNTRUE

Moscow, Sept. 12.—The report originating in Berlin that Leon Trotsky commissaire for war is dead, is not true.

"You can see I am alive," Trotsky laughed today.

BEETHAM TO RESIGN.

Cadiz, O., Sept. 12.—Rupert R. Beetham, former speaker of the Ohio house of representatives, who for several months has been a special assistant in the office of Attorney General Crabbe, will return to his home here to resume his duties as president of the Fourth National bank.

TAKES POISON.

Columbus, Sept. 12.—Shortly after he had been served with divorce papers, Homer L. Moffett wrote his wife a farewell note in which he enclosed 70 cents, and then took poison. He was rushed to a hospital, where it is said he will recover. His home is in Sheridan, Wyo.

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGE LIKELY

Dayton, O., Sept. 12.—Lawrence Harris, 25, of Piqua, and Charles Hood of Portsmouth may face charges of manslaughter, following the death of an unidentified girl from injuries sustained in a motorcycle accident.

The girl died without regaining consciousness. Hood is in jail, and Harris is at his home suffering from injuries. The girl was riding on a motorcycle with Harris when it struck an automobile driven by C. Rederbaugh, near Sidney.

WARLIKE RUMORS COME OUT OF BALKAN STATES WITH MOVEMENT OF TROOPS

London, Sept. 12.—Warlike rumors came out of the Balkans today. The Greek populace is reported highly aroused over the quarrel with Italy. According to news from Vienna, "countries bordering the Adriatic" are holding troop trains in readiness.

Blames Fall of Mark On Policy of Germany

Coblenz, Sept. 12.—"Germany's policy of paying Ruhr workers on condition they loaf is the cause of the disastrous plunge of the mark," President Tirard of the high commission in the Rhineland, told the International News Service today.

"The population is beginning to believe that heavy burdens are unnecessarily imposed by Berlin in order to carry on passive resistance. Now the people are menaced by famine."

"The commission is doing everything possible to relieve conditions and avert starvation. I just held a conference, with representatives of 30 cities, including Mayence, Wiesbaden, Crefeld, Treves, and Coblenz. They were attended by the chief industrialists, merchants and municipal officials. These meetings were most cordial. An organization was created to take a hand in financial matters in the occupied area in co-operation with the high commission."

"We are certain that the people will benefit."

Asked if this was the beginning of a movement for a Rhinish republic, M. Tirard replied:

"France feels that this is a question for the Rhinelanders to decide. All I can say now is that a considerable part of the Rhish people want to take their fate in their own hands."

The French believe that passive resistance has weakened the morale of the German workers. It is claimed furthermore that German propaganda has been making the ground more fertile for establishing a Rhineland republic. The newspaper Nach Richtenblatt which apparently favors detachment of the Rhineland, said editorially:

"Many of the German magnates are seized with dizziness as the mark continues its death dance. They are beginning to whisper to themselves: 'Maybe it would have been better if we had paid reparations instead of inviting occupation, but while the employees are yielding the workers cling to passive resistance.'"

London, Sept. 12.—The British foreign office is gravely disturbed by the news from Rome that Premier Mussolini has reiterated his determination not to evacuate Corfu until the inquiry into the Janina murders has been completed and the blame finally settled. Officials here believe that Mussolini is pursuing his present course for the purpose of delaying a settlement, because Premier Poincare of France is opposed to Italian retention of the island for fear that Italy might use Corfu as a basis in war with Serbia, which is France's ally. Unless Mussolini changes his program and tactics, Britain is hoping for the support of France in the effort to submit the issue to the league of nations.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Secretary of the Treasury Mellon directed tax experts to compile the necessary data to enable him to go before congress with a recommendation for a reduction in the higher income surtaxes.

Mellon will urge that they be cut from a maximum of 50 per cent to 25 per cent. It is understood that President Coolidge will support the recommendation and make it an administration measure.

On good authority it is learned that Secretary Mellon has come to the conclusion that a reduction of the so-called confiscatory tax on higher incomes will not work a hardship on the less wealthy, or poor classes. Instead of bringing money into the treasury, he finds, the large incomes are being converted into tax-exempt securities at the expense of other taxpayers. By removing the so-called higher brackets, he believes, vast sums of money will be turned into profitable and taxable production, which will enable the government to bring down taxes in general much sooner.

Washington, Sept. 12.—David Lloyd George, former premier of England, will arrive in New York Oct. 5, it was learned here, for his visit to America. He will leave in a few hours for Canada and cross back into the United States at Minneapolis. He will also visit the following cities: St. Paul, Chicago, Springfield, Ill.; Mooseheart, Ill.; St. Louis, Louisville, Frankfort, Ky.; Indianapolis, Cleveland, Pittsburg, Washington, Richmond, Philadelphia, Scranton, Boston and New York. The former premier is scheduled to make three or four speeches.

Washington, Sept. 12.—Governor Donahey today overruled the motion of James Watkins, Youngstown, for a new trial. The governor recently, after a hearing, ordered the removal of Watkins as chief of police at Youngstown for alleged failure to properly enforce dry laws.

Accidentally kills son.

Mansfield, O., Sept. 12.—Clare Beech backed his car over his little son, Wilbur, not quite a year old, who had toddled into the driveway at his home. The wheels passed over the head and body of the little fellow, who died about three hours later.

Donahay refuses Watkins' petition.

Columbus, O., Sept. 12.—Governor Donahey today overruled the motion of James Watkins, Youngstown, for a new trial. The governor recently, after a hearing, ordered the removal of Watkins as chief of police at Youngstown for alleged failure to properly enforce dry laws.

U. S. BATTLESHIP CRASHES INTO FREIGHTER OFF PACIFIC COAST

COOPERATION OF STATES SOUGHT BY PRESIDENT

Coolidge Will Confer With
Governors On Law Enforcement

Washington, Sept. 12.—President Coolidge plans to seek state co-operation for law enforcement in general, it was revealed at the White House.

In addition to state aid in making the prohibition laws effective, the president will ask specifically for co-operation in suppression of the drug evil, for enforcement of immigration regulations and other allied questions that have both a state and federal relationship.

These questions will be submitted to the conference of governors which the president contemplates calling this fall. No final decision has been reached as to where the conference will take place. The governors will hold their own annual conference, the meeting of the house of governors, the middle of October at Denver. The president is undecided whether to call the governors here before that meeting or immediately after.

The president believes it would be very helpful for the federal government to have the co-operation of the states in the enforcement of the laws of the United States, a White House spokesman declared, helpful both to the states and to the government.

The president has had conferences within the past week with Prohibition Commissioner Haynes, who submitted suggestions of a program for a discussion of prohibition laws with governors. The determination to include other questions will lead to a revision of this outline to include the narcotic evil.

Following the cabinet meeting the president held conferences with Secretary of Labor Davis and Attorney General Daugherty. The labor secretary is directly charged with enforcement of the immigration laws which the president plans to treat at the meeting with state executives. The actual prosecution of all law violators falls to the department of justice and it is through this department that the law enforcement agencies come in most direct touch with state officers and courts.

The interchange of evidence between state and federal officials will enable both government and states in many cases to secure convictions where otherwise the case might fail for lack of sufficient proof.

On Exploration Tour of
"Dead City."

P. K. Koslov, explorer.

Peter Kusmitch Koslov, famous explorer, who spent two years in the "Dead City of Hara Hoto," in central Tibet, has left Moscow with a Soviet expedition for three years more of exploration there.

Hara Hoto was found to be a deserted city, with everything in it intact, as though the inhabitants had been swallowed up. The most precious "find" was a library of 2,500 volumes from the period of the ninth to the eleventh century.

These books are in seven languages—Persian, Sanscrit, Arabic, Mongolian, Tibetan, Tunganese and Sisyra, a heretofore undiscovered language, which was used by the inhabitants of Hara Hoto. This library Koslov took to Moscow, and it is now in the Artistic Museum of the Academy of Sciences, in Petrograd.

General Baker, as well as the following new state officers, were all elected by acclamation:

First vice commander, William Foulkes, East Liverpool;

Second vice commander, Wallace Thomas, Springfield; and

Third vice commander, J. E. Goodman, Ashtabula.

John S. Taylor, Cambridge, was re-elected treasurer.

Zanesville, in the southeast district was selected as the place for the 1924 convention upon invitation from the delegates of that post, backed by the municipal authorities and civic associations.

Washington, Sept. 12.—President Coolidge is satisfied with the existing status of relationship with Mexico for the time being and will not appoint an ambassador to the southern republic just now. This statement was made at the white house for the president in denial of reports that he is about to announce the appointment of R. B. Greager of Texas to the Mexico City post. When the time comes to select a Mexican ambassador, it was stated, Mr. Coolidge will confer with Secretary of State Hughes on the subject and will be guided by his recommendations. The belief prevails that no appointment will be made until after congress meets in December, in order that it may be acted upon by the senate.

Washington, Sept. 12.—More than 4,000 employees of the Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis are benefited by a wage increase of 3 cents an hour given by the company to its shopmen. The employees include machinists, boiler-makers, blacksmiths, metal workers and carmen. The increase is retroactive to Aug. 1 last.

Total Disaster Narrowly
Averted by Vessel Early
Wednesday.

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 12.—Ploughing through a heavy sea and dense fog, the battleship, Texas crashed headlong into the freighter Steel Seafarer, off Point Arguello light at 6:55 o'clock this morning, according to word received today at Los Angeles harbor by the Radio Corporation of America.

The crash occurred within 14 miles of the rocks where seven United States destroyers went on the rocks Saturday night and within 50 miles of where the Pacific mail steamer Cuba also crashed on Saturday.

The message from the Steel Seafarer stated that a large hole had been punched in her side by the battleship's armored prow.

The Texas navigators, evidently catching sight of the Steel Seafarer just before the crashes she loomed out of the fog, reversed the battleship's powerful engines, narrowly averting a third total disaster in the same locality within a week. The Texas is believed to have escaped serious injury because of the heavy belt of armor protecting her.

Styles BY LENORE

Decorative. That is the unmistak- able sign to know in regard to Fall footwear. Not the bright-hued slip- pers that were such a tantalizing temptation even to the more conserva- tive, but ornate strapped pumps will be worn, similar to those illustrated, and there will be buckle and pearl trimmings, and slippers with clever gadget inserts.

Suede, in black and the various shades of brown are shown for street wear. Satin is to be worn for formal afternoon frocks. And for the even- ing, the sandal again is featured, multi-strapped, and made of gold and sil- ver metal cloth.

And if you have ever resorted to the trick, in midwinter, of protecting your ankles by wearing a pair of lisle stockings under the fashionable chif- fon hose, now it can be told—for a well-known hosiery manufacturer has recognized this need with the "invis- ible" stocking illustrated in the sketch.

DROWNING CURSE CLINGS TO BATTLE ABBEY

The death by drowning of Sir Augustus Webster, the owner of Battle Abbey, recalls in a start- ling manner the "drowning curse" on the historic spot. Battle Abbey was built on the scene of the Battle of Hastings, in England, as a monastery, but a later English king dispossessed the monks and gave the castle to one of his favorites. A monk is said to have cursed the place, predicting that all its owners would drown. Many did. The eighth Lord Montagu, who owned it before the Websters, was drowned. Twenty-two years later his sister was drown- ed. The estate was then let to Michael Grace, an American mil- lionaire, and his daughter, Mrs. Hubert Beaumont, was drowned. Lady Webster was drowned while trying to save her daugh- ter, Evelyn, from drowning. Sir Augustus' only son was killed in the World War.

TOTAL OF 1,923 PUPILS ENROLLED IN CITY SCHOOLS

A total of 1,923 pupils were enrolled in the Xenia City public schools on the opening day, according to figures made public Wednesday by C. A. Waltz, superintendent of schools.

The total is an excess of 103 pupils over the opening day last year when 1,819 pupils began their studies. There are almost 100 children yet to report this year. It is said, and on the basis of last year's total attendance the enrollment this year will be about 2,100.

The unexpected increase in attendance over the city has necessitated the addition of one or two extra teachers to take care of the children in spite of the increase teaching force over last year's numbers. The attendance in three of the first grades—McKinley, Lincoln and Spring Hill, is 182, according to Mr. Waltz, including 67 at McKinley, 54 at Spring Hill and 61 at Lincoln.

As a result of this congested condition, half day sessions will be inaugurated in those grades to relieve the condition. One group of children will attend school from 8:30 to 11:30 o'clock in the morning and the other group from 12:45 to 3:45 o'clock in the afternoon. Additional teachers will have to be added at Lincoln and Spring Hill buildings in order to take care of the congestion in the third, fourth and fifth grades. There are 104 children in the fourth and fifth grades at Lincoln and 103 in the third and fifth grades at Spring Hill.

Children of the first grades in buildings are to be in school at 8:30 o'clock and should be started from home so that they will arrive at their buildings at that time, according to Superintendent Waltz. The cafeteria will begin serving lunches at the new Central High School Thursday. It is announced.

The enrollment by classes follows: Central High School—freshmen, 134; sophomores, 123; juniors, 93; seniors, 89—Total 439; McKinley Junior High—seventh grade, 109; eighth grade—99—total, 208.

East High School—freshmen, 25; sophomores, 22; juniors, 22; seniors 21—total, 90; Lincoln Junior High—eighth grades, 35; eighth grade, 28—total, 63.

Orient Hill—First grade 21; second grade, 11; third grade, 18, fourth grade, 14—total, 64.

Spring Hill—First grade, 53; second grade, 30; third grade, 49; fourth grade, 40; fifth grade, 54; sixth grade, 39; Total—265.

McKinley—First grade A, 67; First grade B, 32; second A, 37; second B, 33; Third A, 42; third B, 41; fourth A, 35; fourth B, 27; fifth A, 34; fifth B, 40; sixth A, 41; sixth B, 35. Mixed fourth and fifth grade 27. Total 491.

Lincoln—First grade, 57; second grade, 41; third grade, 36; fourth grade, 61; fifth grade 43; sixth grade 22. Total—260.

AUTO SIDESWIPE AND PASSENGER PAINFULLY HURT

Leslie Moore, 18, of 215 West Main Street, is in City Hospital, Springfield, suffering from a dislocated hip, fractured hip socket and other injuries sustained in an automobile accident near Springfield, Tuesday night. Moore was riding on the running board of a roadster owned and driven by William Gowdy, of the Upper Bell brook pike, when the side of the machine was struck by a roadster driven by John Thomas, colored of South Bend, Indiana, about four miles from Springfield on the Clifton pike.

Moore was rushed to the hospital in a touring car near the scene of the accident, where it was first thought the hip bone was fractured. Further examination by hospital surgeons Wednesday showed he is suffering from a dislocated hip, that the hip socket is fractured, a deep gash in the left hip, bruised ribs on the left side and a cut on the left hand. He will probably be kept at the hospital two weeks before he can be brought to his home here.

Miss Doris Whittington of this city, Mrs. Lulu Himes of Dayton, and Philip Moore and Raymond Snodgrass of this city, who were in the car, were uninjured. The party was on its way to Springfield at the time the accident occurred. Gowdy, who was driving, slowed down behind a touring car to permit the roadster, traveling south, to pass. After passing the touring car in advance, it is believed Thomas cut back into the center of the road too quickly.

The machine struck the local car along the left running board on which Moore was riding, leaning against the back fender. The running board was crushed, and torn away from the rear fender, so that the jagged end of the fender was thrust into Moore's hip and his clothes were badly torn.

Hospital surgeons say that his injuries will not be permanent.

Seventy-Fourth O. V. I. Meet in G. A. R. Rooms

Judge H. L. Smith, president of the City Commission, delivered the welcoming address Wednesday morning to a dozen or more members of the Seventy-fourth Regiment, Ohio Volunteer Infantry, meeting in the rooms of Lewis Post, G. A. R., in the Court House.

Only a remnant of the regiment that marched forth from this section and played such a valiant part in the battles for freedom during the Civil War, was left to attend the annual convalesce here. Many others, unable to attend, were there in spirit through their letters of regret read at the morning session.

The welcoming address of Judge Smith was followed by a reply by T. J. North of Vandalia, president of the organization. Only a brief business session occupied the veterans Wednesday morning. They had luncheon at the Elks' Club and resumed their business session Wednesday afternoon when officers for the ensuing year were to be elected.

MAN ELECTROCUTED IN DAYTON PLANT

Noble caught hold of the wire and when he failed to receive a shock, grabbed the other wire, completing the circuit. Voltage amounting to 5,500 passed through and he died in a few minutes after being pulled from the wires by workmen.

THE RULE OF SELF.

Contentment does not come till a man has brought his own being into subjection to certain laws which through the ages have been slowly formulated and vindicated by the general experience of mankind.

The rule of self, meaning control over self, costs struggle. The rule of self, meaning doing as one pleases, without any care for pain to others or harm to those who are trying to live, is the easy way to take; but Nature plays no favorites, she inflexibly affixes and collects her penalties, and the fool pays. "The sin ye do by two and two ye must pay for one by one."

The moralist is least welcome when he preaches control to the uncontrolled. It is held that the time through which we pass is peculiarly depraved and given to strange gods. So men who thought at all have thought in every period our earth has survived. As soon as the earth began to be populated some of the people were grieved and shocked at the behavior of the rest and started to reform them. It is easy to condemn the reformer and, because certain reformers have failed and fallen, to set them all down as miserable hypocrites. If anything is sadder than the fall of a minister of God, it is those who rejoice over it.

But there must be control, whether the advocates of untrammelled personal liberty care for it or not. What an unbearable earth it would be if a thousand restraints did not interpose to safeguard the individual! The first and the last effort must be that sober rule where a man sets watch and ward on his own nature, as one who says, "For their sakes I sanctify myself."

PUBLICITY-SEEKING LOBBYISTS' NEW DODGE.

Every one concedes the easiest way to get publicity in Washington is to tie your game up with the White House in some manner or other. The politicians have known it for years, and that is why they are such assiduous callers at the Executive Mansion. If they walk in and merely shake hands with the President, "paying respects," as it is called, they are in a fair way toward putting over an interview on the subject closest to their heart.

More recently various interests have discovered the dodge, and their lobbyists are seen as frequently at the executive offices as in the halls of the Capitol. A petition, memorial or open letter to the President usually proves ample to tell the world how important their project is. But lately mere individuals have caught on, and their pet method for obtaining personal publicity is to hold the beautiful old White House up to ridicule as an unfit place for the President of the United States to reside. They want the stately Colonial structure torn down and something resembling a hotel put up so the President will have "more conveniences."

A Westerner recently sniffed that there were finer residences in Oklahoma City, and the latest person to advocate dismantling the White House was a North Carolina preacher, who made the credible statement that there were real estate men in Charlotte who had more expensive houses. The pastor would put the President and his family in a hotel for the nonce, scrap the White House, sell the immemorial bricks to souvenir collectors and with the proceeds erect this hotel-like building he has in mind.

The plan, which he says will "not cost the Government a postage stamp," was evolved after he spent a half hour "inspecting" the White House and left "heart-broken to see what a dilapidated building the President of the United States must use as home."

DOLLARS, AND OTHER THINGS.

From the "Labors of Love," monthly publication by Christ Hospital, Cincinnati, we take the following of local interest: "Dr. W. A. Robinson, our financial secretary, has kindly let us have his report for July, and we share with our readers this glimpse into the days of a busy man."

Dr. Robinson was at his task every one of the five Sundays in July. Some of them seem very strenuous for hot summer days. For instance, "The third Sunday I was at Trinity, Xenia. Pastor absent. I spent Saturday night with my friend, J. W. Johnson, in Dayton. At 8:30 Sunday morning he took me in his auto to West Carrollton where a staunch friend of our work, who had just returned from a trip around the world, gave me his check for $100. Then to Xenia, where I found, as they had standard time, I could see a certain big-hearted lover of mankind before I was due at the church. He gave me $25. Thence to the church where to a small audience I spoke $60 worth. Got the Interurban to Dayton in time for the 12:25 train and was at home by 4 p. m., singing 'One More Day's Work for Jesus.'"

THE RIGHT MAN.

Senator James E. Watson, Hoosier statesman, was a caller at the White House. As he prepared to end his visit he said to President Coolidge:

"Mr. President, is there anything I can do for you?" "Just look after the good old Republican party," was the reply. "You are speaking to the right man," commented Watson.

CARRY YOUR BAG?

1903--Twenty Years Ago--1923

Xenia is soon to have a new addition and one that will prove quite popular. A tract of fine land, opposite the entrance to the O. S. and S. O. Home, is to be platted and thirty three building lots, separated by broad streets and good alleys, laid out.

Walker Gibney leaves this week for Muskingum College, where he will enter the preparatory department.

Trinity M. E. Church has been greatly beautified, and the whole interior has been so handsomely decorated that it looks like a "spick and span" new church.

A shortage of something over $3,000 has been discovered in the Beaver Creek township funds. The matter has been the subject of comment in the vicinity of Alpha for some time.

THE JOY OF CREATION

On my way to work each day I pass the window of a railroad office. In it is the perfect model of a modern engine. I never pass it but I think of the crude model that George Stephenson made years and years before this one was conceived.

And my mind immediately reacts to the idea of creation—the joy that the makers of those two models took in bringing out something that would revolutionize much of living and doing.

There is no joy like that of creation—dipping into the elements and so forming them that they combine for the furthering of power and inspiration. So to phrase a group of words that the very heart of one rises in its seat, and the entire physical life takes upon itself new zest—what a gift is this!

To sit for an evening and read from the pages of Kipling or Stevenson or George Sand, or Joseph Conrad, to follow these minds as they revel in the joy of creation, is to furnish immortal food to the mind.

But the joy of creation into your work—no matter what it may be—and you will have no fear as to compensation. For creation of itself is a compensation, more precious than any gift of mere money.

God's greatest joy was and is that of creation. Go where you will, you will see growing things—every moment changing into something new and beautiful.

Even the dead tree, standing alone out there in the field, stripped of all its former life and warmth and beauty, will some day crackle in flames to warm many a cold body; or it will be formed into usefulness in the shape of a chair, or a table, or perhaps some cozy home where love will abound.

Create and you need have no fear of what lies before you. Create and you will sooner or later find your larger self.

The average housekeeper does not appreciate the value of the green sweet pepper on the home table. At this season of the year the pepper is at its best. Let us serve it often. The following recipes are a good food:

Eggs in Pepper Cases: Cut green peppers in two lengthwise, remove seeds and wash well. Place the halves in a saucepan of hot water over the fire and let boil for 20 minutes; this removes the strong taste and partly cooks the vegetable. Then drain well and fill as follows: sprinkle dry bread crumbs in the bottom of each half pepper; add a layer of finely minced cooked ham; season with a little salt and pepper, then break an egg into each pepper-case. Place a small piece of butter on top of each egg, and bake the pepper-halves in a moderate oven till the egg whites are set. Serve at once.

Green Pepper Salad: Cut slices

from stem ends of six green peppers and remove seeds. Wash the peppers well, then fill them with the following mixture: Dice the pulp of one large grapefruit and add to it one cupful of finely cut celery and a few English walnut-meats broken small. Moisten with a little Mayonnaise dressing before putting the mixture into the peppers. Top each filled pepper with a dab of Mayonnaise and chill well before serving.

Unusual Stuffed Baked Peppers: This is a fine dish for children. Boil enough rice to make two cupfuls, cooked. Stew enough fresh, ripe tomatoes to make one-half cupful of thick pulp (or use the more solid parts of canned tomatoes). Moisten the cooked brown rice with this tomato pulp, add two tablespoons of butter, a pinch of pepper, one-half teaspoon of salt and one pint of thick white sauce (made by thickening a pint of sweet milk with two tablespoons of flour and adding one teaspoon of butter). Stuff the pepper-cases with this mixture and lay a slice of uncooked bacon over each. Bake for 40 minutes in a moderate oven in a pan containing two cups of hot water; every ten minutes baste the peppers with this pan liquor. Serve hot.

Lamb-Pepper Stew: This is an excellent recipe for serving left-overs from a leg of lamb. Cut the cold meat into cubes or small chips and warm it in let-over brown-gravy; also add strips of green sweet peppers which have been previously seeded and cooked until very tender (about 40 minutes of steady boiling). Season with salt and serve on toast.

BACK BAD TODAY?

Backache is usually kidney-ache and makes you dull, nervous and tired. Use Doan's Kidney Pills for weak kidneys—the remedy recommended by your friends and neighbors. Ask your neighbor!

O. T. Smith, retired railroad man, 516 W. Second St., Xenia, says: "I had no end of kidney trouble and suffered a great deal with lumbago. Sharp, piercing pains shot through the small of my back and I could hardly straighten after stooping. Colds settled on my kidneys, leaving them extremely weak and irregular in action. Nights I got up four or five times to pass the secretions which were highly colored and contained a sediment like brick dust. Doan's Kidney Pills had been so highly recommended that I got some. Several boxes relieved me of those terrible pains in my back and my kidneys were put in a normal condition."

TEARING DOWN AND BUILDING UP

There is ever the tearing down And the building up again; There is nothing in city or town Man fashions long to remain, Better's a constant cry, Bigger's a constant call, And even beneath the sky We fling up our towers to fall.

The sound of the blast by day Shall deafen our puny speech, As the old to the new gives way And higher we strive to reach What was but a year ago A glorious goal attained, We are turning from now to know The goal that shall soon be gained.

Shall ever we sit and see And the building up again? Shall ever the morning be When there's no new dream begun? Not while men seek renown And a drop of life's in the cup, Shall we pause in our tearing down Or halt in our building up.

For better's our constant cry And bigger's our constant call, Both buildings and builders die And changes come to us all.

And the old shall give way to the new And the hammers of men shall ring So long as the skies are blue And the flowers bloom in the spring

GRIDIRON TALENT

AT WILBERFORCE U.
FORECASTS STAR 11

Football prospects at Wilberforce University are looking up, following the first call for candidates issued by the coaching staff at the colored school Monday evening.

The addition of Harry Jefferson, former all-Ohio center, to the men's team at Wilberforce this year shows a determination on the part of athletic officials at the school to put Wilberforce on the athletic map.

Jefferson won his spurs in the Ohio Conference preceding his graduation in 1922. He tips the beam at 225 pounds. Dean Mohr, last year's coach has been made director of athletics and will have personal charge of the basketball team. Jefferson will be head football coach and will direct his attention to the line while Coaches Mohr and Purcell will tutor backfield candidates.

Many letter men will be back when school starts September 18, and much new talent will also be available according to Coach Mohr. Among letter men returning are "Pete" Willett, the Cleveland flash, Huff, the big full back, Hurd, a half back, Redden, R. Lewis, House, R. Smith, S. Brown, L. Turner, G. Coleman, William Spriggs and Stout.

Coach Mohr is proud of the new talent that will be available this year. Woolridge, an end, was an all-Indiana high school player at Worthington, Indiana last fall. Johnson, of Evanston, (Ill.) High, who played on the Evanston basketball team here last winter, Craft, who comes to Wilberforce from Bishop College, Texas, "Woo" Fang, Ward, of Cincinnati, who played with the American Legion basketball team last year, Bickett and Fields, two all-West Virginia tackles from Garner, High, Charleston, W. Va., and Richie, of Evanston, are some of the new stars.

Richie was captain of the mythical all-Evanston team, an all-Cook County back in football, all-Cook County back in football, all-Cook County forward in basketball, all-Cook County forward in basketball man in baseball. Woolridge will be coached to succeed Captain Tripp, who graduated, at end.

When school starts next week, coaches will start whipping this material in shape for the opening practice game which between the Varsity and scrubs at Wilberforce October 6. The school will face a tough schedule including a big inter-sectional game with Howard University at Washington D. C., November 3, and an encounter with West Virginia at Columbus November 29. Other teams to be met will be Simmons, of Louisville, Kentucky, Normal Rogers, Williams and Chillicothe.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Sept. 12.—

"I'm ready now and I'll be ready for that gong Friday night," said Jack Dempsey after finishing his training here for his fight with Luis Firpo. "When I'm ready and fit to fight, I'd just as soon fight two or three men as one."

A triple spray of scarlet marked Dempsey's final workout with his sparring partners. Dempsey, in a savage mood, ripped and tore into his three foemen with extreme viciousness, and at the end of each bout his sparring partners were hanging on. And each, was dripping blood from the lips, where Dempsey had jabbed and crashed them with hard punches.

FIRPO SEEMS FIT
FOR TITLE BATTLE

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 12.—Luis Angel Firpo, challenger for the world's heavyweight crown, will train for New York late today. The New York headquarters prior to the fight will be in West 94th street.

Today the Argentine challenger displayed a fair amount of speed, boxing one round each with Frank Koebel, the speedy Brooklynite and two others. The ropes burn on Firpo's right arm appeared to be healing and is not expected to give him any trouble, barring the ever-present possibility of infection.

Women to attract must
Radiate Health!

BEAUTY is the magnet which draws all eyes—and back to beauty—Health—working silently—Red blood tingling through the veins—the glow of youth in the cheeks—the spring of eagerness, of vim, of vitality in the walk—the ever graceful air, unrestrained by care or worry—All the charms of beauty. All the works of health.

Men are fascinated by the charm of beauty. Women gaze with envy secretly jealous, perhaps—wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness that is not theirs.

But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that craved-for attractiveness—that beauty. Good looks is the barometer of one's condition. Good health radiates beauty. S. S. S. purifies the blood—creates new red blood cells—rids the system of impurities which make beauty an attractiveness impossible. As women to attract must radiate health so must they keep their systems free from impurities and their red blood cells ever increasing. S. S. S. does both.

S. S. S., since 1826, has been ridding the system of impurities—pimples, blackheads, boils, eczema, rheumatism—building red blood cells—adding women to be attractive by radiating health. S. S. S. is made of carefully selected herbs and barks scientifically prepared and properly bottled. All good drug stores carry S. S. S. It is more economical to purchase the large size bottle.

Rev. Joseph Barnett and wife were guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Early over Sunday. Rev. Bennett preached his initial sermon at the Methodist Church Sunday morning. They will move into the parsonage this week, coming from Tremont City, Rev. Baughman and family leave this week for Springfield where he will preach in the Clifton Ave. church.

BOYS ARRESTED AS FIRE BREAKS OUT

Five boys were arrested by Police Tuesday night after they are alleged to have entered the cob bin at the DeWine Milling Company mill, Bellbrook Avenue, and are said to have started a fire in cobs.

Police believe timely intervention of officers, who stamped out the blaze, saved the mill from destruction. Donald Lemons, aged 12; Francis Dudley, aged 17; Herbert Rallison, Charles Coates, aged 17 and Howard Swensker, aged 18, were arrested by Patrolmen Simms and Thompson, who went to the scene.

Shoemaker and Coates, who are on parole from the State Reformatory according to police, are still being held. Rallison and Dudley were released after a lecture and Lemons was turned over to Juvenile Judge J. C. Marshall.

POLICE INVESTIGATE TWO NIGHT CALLS

B. E. Vickers, Leaman street, reported to police at 3:15 o'clock Wednesday morning that somebody was attempting to enter his residence.

Patrolmen Thompson and Simms investigated. They found traces of someone having attempted to affect an entrance, but no trace of the intruder. Patrolman Simms investigated a report from Mrs. Samuel Manor, Dayton Hill at 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night that two men were seen looking in a window of her home. The intruders were not found.

RETURN RUNAWAYS TO HOME IN XENIA

Charles Johnson, aged 12, and Russell Johnson, aged 14, brothers and wards of the state at the Ohio Soldier's and Sailors' Orphans' Home, here were returned to the institution Tuesday night after an unsuccessful attempt to run away.

The boys are said to have left the institution Tuesday with the intention of going to their home in Chillicothe. They rode on a truck out the Jamestown pike until the truck driver learned they were running away and put them off. A woman driver picked them up and turned them over to Chief of Police M. E. Graham at Police Headquarters.

They were given a stiff reprimand before Colonel Sylvius Garver, Home superintendent, who returned them to the institution.

GENERAL MITCHELL ESCAPES; PLANE FALLS

Moundsville, W. Va., Sept. 12.—Brigadier General William Mitchell, Assistant Chief of the United States Army Air Service, had a narrow escape from death yesterday when the plane he and Private J. C. Woodruff were flying to McCook Field, at Dayton, Ohio, fell into the Ohio River. Neither was injured.

General Mitchell experienced engine trouble when several miles from the Moundsville flying field and attempted to return, but was unable to negotiate the distance.

When directly above the Ohio River the plane fell, diving into the water. It was wrecked.

As the plane neared the water General Mitchell and Woodruff jumped, and were several feet away when it dived into the river. Both swam ashore. General Mitchell took off a short time later in another machine for Selfridge Field, Mt. Clemens, Mich., giving up the trip to Dayton.

Coal prices from Survey of Current Business, February 1923. Cement prices from U. S. Geological Survey. Wages, from November 1922 Monthly Labor Review, Bureau of Labor Statistics.

More for Your Money

Swapping things—as when our grandmothers traded eggs for calico at the cross-roads store—gives a better understanding of values. By measuring one thing against another we too can often judge values more clearly.

Coal and wages make up more than half the manufacturing cost of cement.

The chart above shows price fluctuations for portland cement, coal and wages during the past ten years. In each case 100 is used to represent 1913 figures, by the Government departments which compiled these statistics.

Translated into "eggs and calico" language, this chart shows that a ton of coal would buy nearly twice as much cement in 1922 as in 1913. A day's wages also would buy more cement in 1922 than in 1913.

This means that even though coal and wages make up more than half its manufacturing cost, cement is now relatively lower in price than either coal or wages.

So, considering these increased costs, it is plain that in buying cement you get more for your money than before.

WORKMEN RUSHING VESTIBULE WORK AT CENTRAL HIGH

Delays in shipments of marble and the discovery that a considerable amount of the marble had been broken on arrival, has held up completion of the handsome doorway and vestibule of the new Central High School Building, school authorities, have announced.

Pupils in the new building are using the entrances at each end, while workmen are rushing completion of the front entrance vestibule and stairway. With the exception of matters of slight importance there remains nothing to be completed about the building except the entrance way.

Pupils were made comfortable at once, Monday, and seats and lockers were assigned Monday night and Tuesday. Tuesday there was little confusion as pupils were acclimating themselves to the atmosphere of the new building. A few freshmen got lost Monday in finding their way to the different classes, but they were set right by more sophisticated upper classmen.

Much of the furniture of the new building was made by manual training students last year under the direction of V. L. Faires, head of that department, and his former assistant, Carol Zumbro. Among this furniture were tables for the cafeteria, to be operated by cooking students. Especially constructed table-cabinets for pupils in the cooking department are also the handiwork of students under Mr. Faires' direction.

These tables are of oak construction, provided with drawers and cabinets, and equipped for two pupils each. They are connected with a hot plate on top for the individual cooking. The manual training students are also expected to construct and erect the new bleachers for the Cox Memorial Athletic field. Much money was saved the public through the use of the department in building this equipment. It is pointed out while also giving the students practical work. Meals will probably be started in the new cafeteria the latter part of this week.

George Weekes, marble contractor, is in charge of setting the marble that will make the main entrance way the most imposing part of the new structure. A dark marble base, of American marble, is used in contrast with the imported Italian product that will furnish the panels of the stairway and the vestibule. More than 1,000 pieces of marble will be laid in the entranceway when it is completed.

Weekes started the job here in April, but owing to delays in getting material was away from here two months. Delays are still holding up the work, part of marble railing having been rejected by the architects. The entranceway will be finished within a few more weeks, it is promised.

Police quell eunuchs

Palace in Forbidden City

Obedience to the orders of the boy emperor of China, 1,425 eunuchs, some weeping, some wailing carrying their prized and worthless possessions, have been driven from the Palace in the Forbidden City of Peking which has been their home since birth. It was not Christmas in the harem. The eunuchs were told in a proclamation by R. F. Johnson, the Emperor's English tutor, that they were to receive an honorarium of $500 and transportation to their homes. There was a riot when they got only $5 each and no transportation. Police and soldiers had to quell the "lady faces."

QUAKE VICTIMS NEED CLOTHING

Kobe, Japan, Sept. 12.—Owing to the abundance of foodstuffs, the Japanese relief bureau has issued a statement requesting that all further contributions for the stricken region be confined generally to building materials and clothing. Among these two last items the greatest demand is for galvanized iron sheets or other roofing material, and for heavy winter clothing, especially knitted underwear made of wool or cotton, and all kinds of flannel clothing and blankets.

A WIFE'S STORY

By Jane Phelps

Synopsis of Preceding Chapters

Ruby Atkins, 18, marries Paul Norwood, who at 25 has already dissipated a small fortune. Paul, somewhat of a dilettante and writing a book, is objected to by Ruby's parents. There are two children, both girls. Paul has a studio in New York but insists his family remain in the country. He tells Ruby nothing of his affairs. Publishers refuse his book and he burns it. Ruby makes friends, Evelyn Markham being her intimate.

Dave Logan is introduced, a coarse, common man, whom at first Ruby distrusts. Logan, however, places Paul with a motor concern and Ruby comes to regard him only as a good friend. Paul resigns and Ruby again fears hard times. Logan promises to help; then war is declared and Paul accepts a secretarial position principally to be in Paris. He promises to send money but fails to. Ruby thinks of Logan and phones him, only to find he is in the hospital.

A MOVE TO THE CITY

Chapter XXV.
Things looked terribly black to me. I knew nothing of business, no way to earn money, yet money I must have. There were three of us to live; and I could expect nothing from Paul for weeks, perhaps longer.

Had I been sure Paul would send me money regularly, perhaps I might have tried to satisfy the tradesmen by promises, but knowing my husband I dared not. I simply told them they would be paid, that as fast as I could I would give them all we owed.

Naturally they gumbled. They had carried us for large and lesser amounts for years and wanted their money. One man said:

"You can live in a fine house, better than mine. It is strange you can't pay me."

His remarks set me thinking. Why not give up the house, find a cheap place. At once I commenced to look. But there was no house in the community available, no small house. I talked with Evelyn, not telling her quite how I was situated, yet making it plain I must reduce expenses.

"I must find work too," I told her.

She was all helpful sympathy.

"Why not take a few rooms in town? If you succeed in finding something to do it will be easier than commuting," she said.

"A few furnished rooms would be enough for you and the children. And you'll have to get work in town. There's no other way."

We discussed the matter for some time, also what I might find to do. I knew nothing of typing or stenography so could obtain nothing in that line. A place in a store, preferably a small shop would be the best I could hope for. I decided to waste no time but to look for such a position at once. I almost weakened as I thought of Paul's disgust should he find it out, his anger. But another bill gave me the requisite courage.

First I must get moved. And oh, the discouragement of house hunting in New York! Finally I found two rooms in a private house, neither attractive nor overly clean for $20 a month. They were on the top floor, and the landlady told me "dirt cheap."

I was fortunate enough to sublet our house in the middle of the month, so saving half the rent Paul had given me. That I gave to my new landlady. We were sure of a roof over us for two months and I had a few dollars left for food. Then I started out looking for a job.

It seemed to me I visited every shop and store in the city before I finally secured a place in the dress department of one of the large shops, secured it on trial because they were short of help and the fall season had just begun. The salary was $20 a week.

How I worked to please the angular woman at the head of the department, knowing I was overdoing feeling so tired at night I could not sleep. I had to mend for the children, cook our dinner and tidy the rooms at night. I could not do it and reach the store in time in the morning. Then the children must have their breakfast to be sent off to school.

At the end of two months I fainted away in the store, was sent home, and was ill for weeks. Only the knowledge that we had reached the last dollar enabled me to get up and try again. But my place was filled they had nothing for me.

Evelyn was my good angel. I could sew nicely, and she gave me some work and enlisted her friends. I could be at home with the children and that was a great consideration. Joan had not grown easier to manage, was a wilful child, although sweet and loving at times. She needed constant care or would soon be even harder to control.

I had written Paul that we had moved into town because of the cheaper rents. It was just ten weeks from the time he left me before he sent me my remittance although I had received several short, hastily written letters. He sent me $20 apologizing, that it was as much of an apology as he would make, for not sending more because it cost so much to live in Paris now that the world was at war. He more than hinted that I go home and live until his return. Said he thought it the place for the children.

But I knew father's feeling on the subject of husbands supporting their wives, knew that I never should even let them know my needs as long as I could keep the children in food and clothes.

Tomorrow—Pride Prevents Appealing For Help

Every table should have its Daily Portion of Grape-Nuts

There's a Reason

When "Cut-off" While Telephoning

A TELEPHONE "cut-off" may be due to the temporary disarrangement of signal mechanisms at the switchboard, or just a plain human mistake by the operator.

The person called should immediately hang up his receiver when "cut-off".

The person who made the call should ask the operator to re-establish the connection thus: When the operator says, "Number, please", say, "I called Number _____ and was cut-off".

If the person who is called keeps his receiver off the hook after he has been "cut-off", his line will test "busy" and may be so reported when the calling party is trying to reach him again.
